was writing to the Ministry of Finance and saying we're diligencing the Attorney General's opinion and if there's anything wrong with it, please let me know, kind of like that, and that was November 2nd of or 3rd of 2003.

Q. Excuse me for a second. That's an email from John Kennedy to whom?

A. John Kennedy at Crabbe-Brown.

O. Yeah, to whom?

1.5

A. To the Ministry of Finance, it's one or two people at the Ministry of Finance.

O. Do you recall which two?

A. No, I don't. But it didn't recall me specifically but reminded me of kind of what we were doing back then and sort of the flow of things. I was apparently copied on the email so wasn't a record that I'd had

So that was something that sticks out in my mind as seeing that thing and, boy, I didn't remember that. And what did we do right before and right after that.

Then if I'm going to kind of go forward there and think of the things that I saw, of course I reviewed the agreements, the whole – I went through all the agreements and tried to resolve in my mind

And kind of their thought processes and going back and forth with them that caused me to remember kind of the bases we were trying to cover then and all of that.

So I'd say the things that popped to my head as you asked that question are those.

Q. What note were you trying to sell in the U.S. financial system in the fall of 2004?

A. Note 9/12.

2.4

Q. Where did you get the various documents that you reviewed for purposes of preparing for these depositions?

A. From my counsel.

Q. As far as you're aware were all of the documents that you reviewed documents that had been produced to the defendants in this case?

A. I have no idea. Either Chip or Rex can answer that.

Q. When you practiced law, what kind of work did you do?

A. For the first five or six years I was a litigator, maybe seven, and for the last couple years

23 I was a tax guy.

Q. Why did you make that change?

A. Well, you want to know the real truth?

all of the back and forth that was going on with those agreements and all of the negotiations and remonstrations to finally get to where we were.

And so the agreements helped and more in that sense of not so much looking at the exact legal terms but kind of what was going on and what was happening in consecutive order in this timeframe up to the lawsuit being filed.

I reviewed -- the thing that really helped me was when in the fall of 2004 we took out a -- we were doing a transaction on behalf of Gruppo to try and sell one of the notes in sort of the U.S. financial system and we put together a short memorandum to, not to offer the bonds but the term of interest. And so reading that helped me think about kind of what our mental processes were at the time and what we thought and helped me reflect back on how we got to those opinions.

And I saw a -- I saw a document that was prepared by Jess Ravich at Libra Securities, and Libra -- Jess was an ex-managing partner at Kidder Peabody, and so I remember all that back and forth that started I think in June of '04 with him, because he's very, very powerful -- or, not powerful but kind of a big guy. He's far above my level.

I'm under oath. Well, I looked around in Columbus and every litigator I thought was really good was either divorced, an alcoholic, or something, and I was starting a family and I decided I wanted a different life.

So I thought maybe tax would provide that and I went to the Capital master's in tax program, which I almost finished but got sick of that too, I mean, tax, pretty bad for a litigator, right? So and then I went to business.

Q. How long were you at Crabbe, Brown & James?

A. I was active there from I think '77 to '85 or '6 and then completely gone in '88 or somewhere around there.

Q. Was that the last law firm you worked at?

A. That's the only law firm I worked at. I was a partner there.

Q. Did you leave voluntarily?

A. Over their objection, yeah.

Q. Now, at some point you formed the entity that's now known as Skye Ventures, LLC, right?

A. Yes.

Q. When was that?

A. Well, it started out as a blank entity

Page 37 Page 39 1 called I think DRFP, LLC I believe, and that was in going to make reference to "Skye" from time to time. 2 August of 2003. 2 You'll understand when I do that that I'm referring 3 Q. And you also had formed an entity in the 3 to the plaintiff Skye Ventures, LLC which was 4 same timeframe called Empire Advisors, LLC; is that formerly known as DRFP, LLC, right? 5 5 A. We have, Empire has three or four entities right? 6 6 A. I don't know when that was, to be honest that are called Skye something, so I sometimes get 7 7 with you. But probably was in the same timeframe. confused, but I know today if we're talking about 8 Empire was related to another business that, well, Skye, it will be Skye Ventures, that's the Bandagro 9 9 Empire was sort of a -- we formed that, I formed that bonds holder. as a sort of an umbrella entity and it would hold 10 Q. Or Skye, just so we're --10 11 entities typically like DRFP or others. So as to 11 Or Skye. 12 exactly when Empire was started, I don't know. 12 Q. Now, there's also an entity known as 1.3 Empire involved sort of the same group of 1.3 Skye II, right? investors, high-net-worth individuals that had been 14 14 A. Yes. 15 with me since '90. So it was more of a -- nothing 15 What is that? Q. 16 discontinuous. So there was no event that makes me 16 A. I think Skye II is an entity that we 17 remember when it was 17 formed in connection with note 9/12. We viewed it as 18 MR. SCHWARTZ: Let's take a 18 a separate transaction and I think we formed a 19 couple-of-minute break here. 19 separate entity for that. I believe that's how that 20 VIDEOGRAPHER: Off the record 9:56. 20 came about. 21 Which entity today owns note 9/12? 21 (Recess taken.) 22 VIDEOGRAPHER: On the record 10:05. 22 I don't know the answer to that question. 23 Q. We were talking about the formation of 23 I would assume it's Skye II but it might have 2.4 Empire Advisors, LLC when we took a break and you 2.4 transferred to Skye. I don't know. 25 described it as an umbrella that would hold entities 25 Q. How could you figure out an answer to that Page 38 Page 40 question? 1 like DRFP, LLC. I don't want to spend a lot of time 1 2 on this, but what's the relationship between Empire 2 A. Well, I could do another records and DRFP, LLC, which is now known as Skye Ventures, 3 search and try to figure it out and it would be the 4 4 LLC? If there is one. same, I would have to -- that's what I'd have to do, 5 A. Well, this is maybe too technical for me, 5 I'd have to go figure it out and look at it. but I would guess that Empire owns a hundred percent 6 Q. If you don't know, who would know? 7 7 of Skye maybe. Is that right? We typically own all Well it would only be me, I would know, 8 or part of the entities that are group funds. 8 right? And would I have to go back and look and see 9 Q. I don't know if it's right, I have to ask 9 if it was still Skye II or what. 10 you those questions. 10 Q. Is that something you could take on as a 11 A. I don't either. I don't know. We've got 11 homework project for tomorrow? 12 a million entities so it's hard for me to know the 12 A. You better start writing these down. 13 details of any one of them. 13 MR. ELLIOTT: We'll consider it. Can you 14 Q. Yes 15 to him a little bit, and he was talking about this Q. How much has he invested? 16 16 bond deal that I should be interested in. And well, 17 17 I said to him, well, you know, if there's -- you're 18 18 standing on the doorstep of my house, I'm not going And just looking at the last two names, 19 you have Adam Richards and Chip Cooper from Cooper & 19 to talk to you about a bond deal. 20 Elliott, with a paren (as attorney). Is that meant 20 Well, what it really was, that Larry 21 21 wanted $5,000. So, and he was going to give me some to indicate they're just recipients of the 22 communications as attorneys as opposed to investors? 22 interest in this deal that he was describing and the 23 MR. ELLIOTT: We created the list and 23 way he was talking about it, maybe I wasn't focused, 24 that's what it was intended to convey. 2.4 but didn't make a lot of sense. 25 A. Yeah, I think there are several people on 25 So I said look, I'll loan you 5,000 bucks, Page 62 Page 64 which I did. I went inside, got a check, wrote him a 1 here that may get the communications that aren't 1 2 actual monetary investors, and certainly Adam and 2 $5,000 check. And said that I could talk to him Chip are two of those. about the deal later. And he said he'd give me an 4 4 interest in this deal and pay me back. Q. Are not monetary investors? 5 5 So there are a lot of Cornas in town, I Are two of those who were not monetary investors, yes. know Richie's a big builder, fellow member at Muirfield, Mark's also a big construction guy and Understood. 8 8 When did you first become acquainted with president of banks, and I assumed I could trust a 9 Pavanelli? 9 Corna for 5 grand, so I wrote him a check and he 10 A. I believe it was in October of 2003. 1.0 11 Although it's possible I spoke to him in September. 11 And then maybe a week after that or two I 12 Q. How is it that you came to be in contact 12 had a phone conversation with him about the deal and 13 1.3 he started telling me the story about the Bandagro 14 We were looking at the transaction and he 14 bond deal. 1.5 1.5 was the acting officer of the people who owned the Q. This was a phone conversation with Larry? 16 16 A. With Larry. And that he was going to get 17 Q. How did you find out about this 17 me papers on the deal and, you know, make sure that 18 18 my $5,000 was good. And he might even have asked me opportunity? 19 19 for another 5 at the time, I'm not sure about that. Well, it's an odd story, like about half 20 20 of my deals. So what happened was there was a fellow So I asked him how he got this deal and 21 2.1 in town named Dave Corna and Dave was a pretty good where he heard of it, and he told me that it was sent 22 friend, or at least a pretty good business friend and 22 to him, so he told me some story about how it was 2.3 23 back in Italy where his family was from and then came had done a number of things with him in the past, and 24 he called me and asked me if I would talk to his 2.4 through a local fellow named Marvin Cantor and he brother, Larry Corna, who I had never met. And I mentioned Antonio Usuelli's name, told me a little impressive place, and waited around for about 45 minutes after our meeting was supposed to start. Sat with a guy and had a conversation for about half an hour or 45 minutes, and I left and went back home, back to Ohio.

- Q. How did you come to learn that they hated Pavanelli?
- A. That's what my the guy who arranged the meeting said that the purpose was to they thought Pavanelli was an irrational or crazy guy and the purpose was to show them I guess they had conversations, so the purpose was to show them that oh, no, this guy is a reasonable fellow.
- Q. Did you ever hear further from any of these people about this subject?
- A. Well, I know that nothing really ever came of it specific. But I'm sure we had conversations afterwards.
- 19 Q. So if Alex was the only other guy in the 20 meeting who spoke English, did he act in effect as an 21 intermediary to communicate to Mr. Tovar and the 22 congressman?
 - A. Yes.

Q. Who was with you if anyone when you met with Jacir in April of '04?

at his office, and then we drove to his home and met at his office, and then we drove to his home and we met there.

I'd say that I think we met in his office the evening or day before and then we went to his house, and the session at his house was, I'll bet it was 11 hours long. And we broke a couple of times and but I think from start to finish it was about 11 hours, 12 hours. It was a long day.

- Q. How long did you spend in his office the evening or the day before?
- A. I think it was a couple hours.
- Q. And this was -- all this conversation took place between Alcalde and Jacir in Spanish and you sat there for the 13 hours?
- A. Well, I kind of his wife Sandra can talk a little bit of English and I kind of wandered outside the office and spoke to her a little bit, then there was a meal a little bit. And occasionally I'd be saying what's he saying, what's he saying kind of thing. But that as the extent of it.

I was more seeing what did Jacir look like, did he seem like a reasonable guy, you know, that kind of stuff. That body language, that kind of thing.

Q. Beyond body language and talking to his

Page 178

- A. Alcalde.
- Q. What was the purpose of that meeting?
- A. Well, from Alcalde's standpoint, Luis wanted to meet with Jacir. Jacir, we didn't know he had Parkinson's at the time but we knew that on phone calls he was very difficult to understand. And while he would think that you were understanding what he was saying, it was difficult for Alcalde.

In fact, if you were trying to ask Alcalde listening to him and to get him to ask questions, he would be shooing you off because he was straining so hard to hear what Jacir was saying.

So from Alcalde's point of view was to go and sit in a room with Jacir and get sort of the full story and background and history of everything that Jacir had done and what he knew and all of that.

From my point of view I, again, it was all in Spanish, I was just looking at body language and the situation and trying to gather what I could gather from the surroundings and what else was going on.

- Q. How long did that meeting last?
- A. It was very long. I was actually amazed that Jacir could last that long because he was clearly frail. So we met in two places. First, we

- Alcalde or Jacir, correct?
- A. If you wanted any meaningful, because again, I would ask questions and say what's he saying. But Alcalde was the one that was going back and forth, back and forth, and I would only interrupt once every 45 minutes or so.
- 10 Q. So I'd have to talk to Alcalde or talk to 11 Jacir or both.
- 12 A. Yeah, I'd say Alcalde or Jacir. Probably13 Jacir.
 - Q. Are you still on good terms with Alcalde?
- 15 A. Sure
- Q. Does he have any residual interest in the outcome of this case?
 - A. I don't think so. You'd have to talk to his law firm about that.
- Q. All right, so we were going to talk about the meeting you had with Woodstrite but I took you on two different excursions so we're going to get back to that.

When did you first learn that Woodstrite was claiming a 25 percent interest in the notes No. 7
